

“Old Salts”

In presenting these photographs of some 780 Old Salts we have been prompted by a desire to assist other collectors whom we are sure are finding much pleasure in forming a collection of these most interesting pieces. Many dealers have also expressed a wish for actual photographic prints showing designs and patterns as clearly as possible.

With occasional exceptions which will be noted later herein, these Salts are all clear or crystal glass. For convenience and reference purposes all plates are numbered.

These by no means represent all known large open Salts but do cover a wide variety and include many rare pieces.

The photographing of clear glass is indeed difficult and we sincerely hope that our efforts as represented in these plates will be received with an understanding and appreciation of our task.

It is interesting to state that every Salt pictured was purchased from dealers.

Sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs. A.E. Coddington,
115 West Hampton Drive,
Indianapolis, Indiana

October, 1940.